

As the former Vice President at my high school, I have always thrived in, and loved to be in a position of leadership. My biggest commitment and ideal that I live by is that of teamwork. Teamwork is multiple individuals working together in unison in pursuit of a common goal. ASOSU is an environment that will continuously have me on a team of people. While I am just a first year student, and I am young, I believe that the qualities I bring to the table are serious and would be a benefit to ASOSU. Problem solving, organization, listening, and looking at a problem from all sides are what I'm best at. I look forward to be exercising them frequently as a part of ASOSU.
