Title I: Statute System

Section 1: Designations and Forms

- A. The ASOSU Statutes shall be organized and delineated by Title, Section, Lettered Subsection, Number and Lowercase Roman Numeral. This form of organization shall be maintained by the Senate Student Government Committee.

Section 2: Enactments, Amendments and Revisions

- A. Amendments to the ASOSU constitution shall take effect immediately after passage by the ASOSU, unless otherwise specified by that Amendment(s). Revisions to the ASOSU Statutes shall take effect immediately after the approval of the ASOSU President, unless otherwise specified by that legislation.

Section 3: Subordination of Statutes

- A. These Statutes shall be subordinate to the laws and regulations of the ASOSU Constitution as well as all State and Federal law.

Title II: Legislative Branch

Section 1: Powers and Duties

- A. As stated in the ASOSU Constitution Article III, Section A, the Congress shall have all legislative and fiscal powers and shall have authority to maintain and establish these ASOSU Statutes. Under this authority, the Congress, as outlined in the ASOSU Constitution Article III, Section B, shall have power and duty to initiate acts and programs to these ends.

Section 2: House of Representatives

- A. Organization of the House

1. Oaths shall be administered by either the Speaker of the House or Speaker Pro Tempore before the Representatives shall be granted a vote.
2. Regular meetings of the House of Representatives (excluding summer term) shall occur every Wednesday at six o'clock in the evening or at any other time approved by the Speaker of the House and two thirds of the members of the House (including representatives not present). Regularly scheduled meetings shall not take place during Finals Week or any Campus Holidays. The location of the regular meetings shall be arranged by the Speaker. The location of the regular meetings shall remain consistent the entire session of Congress unless otherwise altered by the Speaker of the House, subject to approval by a simple majority vote of the House. The frequency, time, and location for meetings during Summer Term shall be determined by majority vote of the House.
3. Terms of Office for Representatives and Speaker of the House shall begin at noon on June 1st and shall end at noon on June 1st of the following year. Officers shall begin their duties immediately after hiring or appointment and shall end their duties at the end of the legislative session. All non-elected officers are subject to a re-hiring process following the end of the legislative session.

4. Attendance to regular meetings shall be mandatory for all Representatives and officers of the House of Representatives. Absence at more than two regular meetings per term shall result in the initiation of an Inquiry of Commitment by the Speaker of the House or Speaker Pro Tempore regarding the absent member, until four absences, after which their seat shall be declared vacant. Vote by proxy shall not count against the attendance of the Representative. Proxies shall not be permitted during Joint Sessions of the ASOSU House of Representatives and Senate, or in matters of impeachment. Committee attendance shall be determined in committee bylaws.
5. Office hours of Representatives shall be mandatory. Any Representative who fails to hold office hours for three consecutive weeks or for four weeks in a single term (excluding week ten and finals week) shall have their seat declared vacant by the Speaker of the House. Office hours will be reported to the Speaker of the House and the Records Clerk.
6. The House of Representatives shall be composed of twenty-five members chosen each year by the ASOSU. Members shall serve for one year.
 - i. Twenty members of the House of Representatives shall be members of the ASOSU which pay undergraduate fees.
 - ii. Five members of the House of Representatives shall be members of the ASOSU which pay graduate fees.

B. Representatives

1. Representatives shall represent the interests of the student body to the best of their abilities and shall stand ready to assist students in matters relating to the ASOSU.
2. Representatives shall be seated on a minimum of one committee and up to two Committees in the House of Representatives. Conference Committees and Independent Committees shall not count towards a Representative's two committees.
 - i. Should a representative not want to serve on any existing ASOSU Committee, they may instead choose any existing university committee, including any Faculty Senate committee, with open student seats. The representative must, in good conscience, feel that serving on their chosen committee can bring some benefit to the student body. This may also include a Student Advisory Board, if that Advisory Board is not that of an incidental fee funded unit (CAPS, SHS advisory boards, etc...).
 - ii. The representative must inform the Speaker of the House of their chosen university committee, and shall make committee reports during meetings at the designated time should there be one.
 - iii. When a chosen University Committee requires students to be appointed by the ASOSU President, congressional appointments to that University Committee shall be subject to approval of the ASOSU President.

- iv. Should serving on a University Committee normally include compensation, the representative may choose between receiving the committee's normal compensation or their congressional compensation.
3. Representatives shall be available to meet with any member of the ASOSU during the regular school year (except during Summer session and all other seasonal breaks).
- i. Representatives shall submit a scheduled weekly office hour time and location (not outside the ASOSU office, unless otherwise approved by the Speaker of the House, and not less than one hour per week) by the second week of each term to the Records Clerk, and within one week's notice of any change of time or location thereafter.
 - a) Any Representative who shall fail to hold office hours for two weeks of a term (excluding finals week) may be subject to an Inquiry of Commitment, in accordance with Title XIII of these statutes, and may have their compensation withheld by the review committee pending passage of the inquiry.
 - b) Office hour requirements of Representatives in any given week may be substituted, at the discretion of the Representative, for an event or task approved by the Speaker of the House.
 - ii. In place of holding scheduled weekly office hours, Representatives may instead be available for office hours by appointment, only upon notifying the Records Clerk of their intention to do so prior to the exemption of that Representative from scheduled office hour requirements.
 - a) Any Representative found to have failed to respond to two or more requests for meeting appointments from members of the ASOSU may be subject to an Inquiry of Commitment, in accordance with Title XIII of these statutes, and may have their compensation withheld by the review committee pending passage of the inquiry.
 - b) Representatives residing outside the City of Corvallis for a period of one week or more, or otherwise subject to circumstances deemed sufficient by the Speaker of the House, shall be granted the option to offer appointments exclusively by telephone or other remote means for the duration of their residency outside Corvallis or, if residing in Corvallis, for a duration deemed necessary by the Speaker of the House.
 - c) Should any representative choose to hold office hours by appointment only, the representative shall provide the Speaker of the House a weekly summary of their work.
4. Each ASOSU Representative shall be required to attend an information session/professional development series, as organized by the ASOSU Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, prior to the start of classes Fall term, or within two weeks of being sworn in. Shall the Representative not attend the informational session, their compensation shall be withheld until satisfactory completion, and they may be subject to an Inquiry of Commitment.

5. Representatives shall complete one tabling event per term, excluding Summer term. These tabling events will be held in open and accessible campus spaces, and shall be to inform or receive feedback from students about current projects, initiatives, and/or important events.
 - i. These tabling events and supporting publicity materials shall be organized by the Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House Pro Tempore, and/or the President Pro Tempore of the Senate unless otherwise delegated. Responsibility to organize shall default to the Speaker of the House should no initiative be taken by week three of each term.
 - ii. Tabling encounters will have a framework that each participating member of Congress must make a best effort to follow, and which event organizers must take into consideration when making tabling materials.
 - a) Phase 1 shall include:
 - (1) introductions as the student government;
 - (2) inquiries into issues the student(s) are facing, concerns they have with the school, and/or changes to campus they wish to see;
 - (3) if they submitted a concern, request their school email to update them of any progress made on the matter;
 - (4) and inquire if they wish to be added to the ASOSU Newsletter.
 - b) Should the student(s) remain engaged, Phase 2 shall include:
 - (1) Sharing the meeting times for sessions of the House of Representatives and the Senate in writing; and a survey of one to two times for general meetings that would be more accessible for them to attend.
 - c) During each tabling event, a record shall be kept of all responses to the aforementioned subjects, including:
 - (1) a list of concerns collected;
 - (2) emails of those who wish to be updated on their projects;
 - (3) emails of those who wish to be added to the newsletter;
 - (4) and a list of more accessible meeting times.
 - d) The aforementioned lists shall be submitted to the chair of the Outreach Committee, the Vice President, and the Speaker of the House at the conclusion of each tabling day as a part of event tear down. The newsletter subscription list shall be sent to the officer responsible for the newsletter, and the distribution list shall be updated within 24 hours of receipt.

- e) Every two weeks, beginning week two of Fall Term, any lists of concerns collected in that period shall be compiled by the Outreach Committee, and presented to each body of congress. The adoption of each concern as a project must be considered by the bodies. If it is found that the implementation of a concern is impossible or ineffective by both bodies of congress, it will not be adopted as a project.
 - f) If at least one house of congress supports a project, it will be referred to a committee in the respective area of interest, defaulting to the Campus Improvements Committee, to adopt and/or modify the proposal so that it may be implemented at a minimum of a baseline level. An individual, or group of individuals, may also adopt a submitted concern in place of a committee.
 - (1) A note must be made on any project resulting from a submitted concern regarding whether the student who submitted it wished to be updated of its progress. If the student wishes to receive updates, notice of whether the project has been adopted or not, and notice of any additional milestones made in the project as determined by the group working on it shall be delivered to the student.
 - (2) Should the project be accepted, an appropriate contact shall be given to the student who will distribute all further notices.
 - (3) Should the project not be accepted, a reason why shall be supplied by the speaker of the house, in addition to an invitation to voice other concerns they might have.
 - g) During week seven of each term, each body shall review the compiled lists of more accessible meeting times, and discuss if changing the current meeting time the following term would be prudent.
6. Representatives shall complete mandatory cultural competency training without exception.
- i. It is the duty of the Speaker of the House to plan and organize cultural competency training to occur within the first three weeks of fall term at a regular scheduled meeting or a professional development training.
 - ii. Training shall be in collaboration with the Office of Institutional Diversity (OID). Should the OID not be available, a cultural competency training shall be made in collaboration with the ASOSU Advisory Team.

 - iii. While in session, Each Representative shall not be working on homework or other work which does not pertain to their work in ASOSU.
8. Failure to comply with any of these policies will be considered an offense which may initiate an Inquiry of Commitment up to the discretion of the Speaker of the House.
- i. Shall any member commit two offenses within a single academic term, they may be subject to an Inquiry of Commitment.
 - ii. Should any member of House have an Inquiry of Commitment initiated, their compensation may be suspended by the review committee pending passage of the inquiry.
 - iii. Compensation may be resumed should the Inquiry of Commitment be resolved.
 - iv. Procedures for excused absences or leave of representatives shall be established by the Speaker of the House prior to the beginning of fall term.
9. In order for an ASOSU Representative to receive compensation they shall demonstrate a completion of the required training modules as well as attendance to the informational/professional development series, as organized by the ASOSU Speaker of the House and Vice President, prior to the start of classes Fall term, or within the two weeks of being sworn in.
